Joy R.O.I.

Make joy-driven choices about where your time, money and energy go

Joy R.O.I., a Year of YES! worksheet with Tracee Sioux

How to use your Joy R.O.I. worksheet

Joy R.O.I. is your return on investment in joy. Use it to look honestly at the projects that take your time, money and energy, and decide which ones earn their place in your life.

1. Project: write up to five projects, jobs or commitments across the top row.
2. Money: what does each one bring in, and what does it cost you each month?
3. Time: how many hours does it take each month, and how many hours do you want to give it?
4. Energy/Mindshare: on a scale of 1 to 10, how much energy does it take now, and how much do you wish it took?
5. Is it necessary to your business or your life?
6. Joy Factor: list the tasks involved and give each a joy rating from 1 to 10.
7. Could you outsource or automate the tasks you don't enjoy?
8. Does it make sense to keep doing this, and what are your next steps?

The next page is a filled-in example from Tracee's own year. After that is a blank worksheet for you.
